

NEW YORK CITY
A Bicycle-Friendly Community

2008 NYC Cycling Map

New York City
Department of Transportation
Bicycle Program

Cycle Commute
The most common and convenient way to get to work or school. It's also good for the environment and your health.

Green Commute
The most scenic and healthy way to get to work or school. It's also good for the environment and your health.

Street number on 1st East 101

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

LEGEND

Blue line	Highway
Red line	Expressway
Orange line	Arterial
Yellow line	Collector
Green line	Local
Light blue line	Waterway
Green circle	Greenway
Blue circle	Waterway
Red circle	Waterway
Blue circle	Waterway
Blue square	Waterway
Blue square	Waterway

Local Street & Downtown Station - Subway and Streets

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.

Map Symbols
This map uses a variety of symbols and colors to indicate different types of streets, bike lanes, and other features. A legend on the right side of the map provides a key to these symbols and colors.