

You are now in a rare category of people that will experience a beauty unique and unto itself.

Driving Tips + Checklist

The R2H Way:

- Rent a Jeep Wrangler.
- Begin at 7 a.m. in Paia. There is so much to see, plus you'll beat the crowds.
- Fill up your gas tank.
- Show aloha. Allow locals and lines of cars to pass.
- Slow down. Take your time.
- Plan to spend at least one full day on your adventure.
- Stay 1 or 2 nights in Hana. This is the real Hawaii.
- Drive the full loop. Don't miss out on some of Maui's greatest visual treasures.

What to Bring:

- Hiking shoes
- Camera
- Sunscreen
- Mosquito repellent
- Bathing suit
- Towel
- Water
- Snacks
- Cash for food & park fees
- Remedy for car sickness
- Rain poncho
- Sweatshirt (if you will be driving back at night with the top down)

R2H™

Make the most of the most magical spots on the island...

And REMEMBER: this is YOUR ADVENTURE!

From this point on, there is no right or wrong way to experience this tropical journey. It is what you create. Before you is a dramatic landscape marked by undeveloped roads, 620 curves, 59 bridges, panoramic views of sparkling coastline, ambitious waterfalls, and acres of sultry jungle still untouched by human hands. Now, it's time to explore the Hawaii you've always imagined.

One-Day Itinerary

The following are our favorite itineraries for a one or two-day experience, although they are merely suggestions. You must choose your own path.

Remember, whatever you do, don't rush it. You could quite possibly spend all day at a number of these stops. Try to escape the mentality of racing to the finish line. In the end, the only prize is your experience and the memories you make.
